Academy

How to register?

The IPA Academy was a response to our member's need to upskill in a rapidly changing world.

We'd like to remind you that the IPA Academy can only be accessed by members of the International Publishers Association and their registered sub-members. To register, please ask your member organization for a code. You can not register an account with the IPA Academy without a valid access code.

We've created a series of simple steps to help you register your account with us.

Step 1

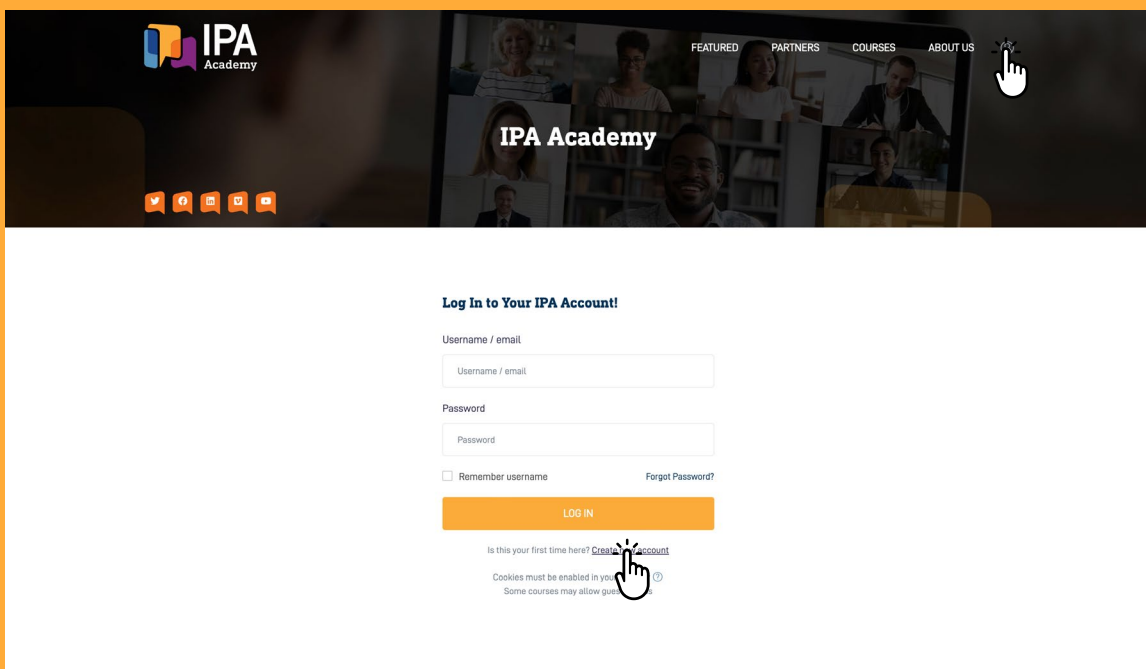

Visit <https://ipaacademy.net/>

Step 2

Check out the site without logging in. There are some elements of the site we've allowed to stay public.

Step 3

Create an account for yourself. Click on the profile icon in the top right corner. Below the LOGIN button, you'll see, «Is this your first time here? Create new account.» You'll need to click this.

Step 4

Create your username and password and fill in all details. Add the code your membership association gave you. If you've entered all your details and a valid code, the site will email you to confirm your registration. Please follow the instructions. If you don't receive anything, please check your email SPAM folder.

Step 5

Once logged in using your username and password, explore what the site looks like (and what you can access as a member) when logged in. You can now watch one of our TALKS videos, read about our featured facilitators, and enroll in a course. You can choose between text-based or video courses. All our courses are self-paced (no facilitators). We have divided our courses into four to six sections. To begin a course, click the ENROLL button on the course page.

We hope you benefit from the free courses available to our IPA members. We intend to add new courses regularly.

This is just the beginning and the first step of many to come. Our aim is for the IPA Academy to become a global platform where the publishing industry can connect, share, and flourish.

We value your feedback and ideas as we improve the site regularly. To contact us, please use the CONTACT FORM at the bottom footer of our site to communicate with us. You'll find it under the EXPLORE section.
